

DID YOU KNOW?

You get what you measure.

That is why we measure our cleaning effectiveness. First, we measure aesthetic cleaning constantly, visually. To verify that, we continue with monthly and quarterly evaluations from visual observations of several vital checkpoints which we record. Next we measure on the unseen level to assure olfactory (what is smelled) and anti-microbial (what affects health) effectiveness. We utilize ATP technology to tell us the potential for germ growth on the areas we are cleaning. It helps us do a better, safer job. Although unseen, it makes an important difference.
